

Farnham Lion Howard Lee heads for UN

FARNHAM Lion Howard Lee (pictured above, far right) has been appointed to the position of Lions Clubs International Representative to the United Nations (UN) in Geneva.

Mr Lee's appointment comes in view of his outstanding charitable work for Lions Clubs International (LCI) and his success in handling many of its international matters. He will now represent the Lions at UN meetings held in Geneva, Vienna and New York in order to discuss ways in which the organisations can work together to achieve better humanity. He will also make recommendations to the UN and look to develop various humanitarian programmes. There are eight LCI Representatives to the various UN agencies based in Europe, and Mr Lee will help to co-ordinate their interactions with the UN.

As a proactive member of Farnham Lions Club since 1976, Mr Lee has held many offices within the association, at club level, district level and multiple district level. He has assisted with many of Farnham Lions Club's major fundraising activities such as the beer exhibition and the annual town carnival. He is pictured above presenting a washing machine to a school for children with speech disorders in Gomel, Belarus.
